

SCORE BURN IN BED
IN A DEMUER HOTELAT LEAST TWENTY BODIES IN THE ASHES.

The Gurney House Takes Fire at 12:10 O'clock This Morning, and Sleeping Guests Die Before Their Rescue Can be Affected—Employees Missing.

Deer Aug. 19.—Twenty perished in the Gurney hotel fire last night. Among those identified are, M. E. Letz, F. E. French, B. F. Lorch, M. Calkins, W. J. Carons, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, two Mr. Edwards, Herman Sanders, Mrs. Wolf and daughter, A. W. Roberts and wife and C. F. McCloskey. Three chambermaids and a bell boy are among the missing. The hotel, 1725 to 1733 Lawrence street, was wrecked by a terrific explosion at 12:10 this morning. The rear half of the building, a five-story brick and stone structure, went down with a crash. The hotel was crowded with guests, and many of them must have been killed, as well as entire force of hotel employees, who were sleeping in the portion of the building which fell.

On both sides of Lawrence, from 17th to 18th street, and on Larimer, directly back of the Gurney, the plate-glass windows of the business houses were blown in and a number of pedestrians were injured by falling glass. The fronts of many buildings in the vicinity were badly wrecked.

The hotel structure, for 100 feet along the alley and extending 75 feet toward the front, was a mass of debris. Brick and plaster are piled in heaps twenty feet high, and from this mass of wreckage could be heard the moans of the injured and dying. At 12:35 five injured persons had been taken out. They were all inmates of the upper story, and sank down with the floors, escaping more fortunately than those below. The firemen worked hard, but could make but little progress. By some estimates forty people were in the portion of the hotel destroyed, nearly all of whom must be dead.

The cause of the explosion is uncertain, but it is supposed that the battery of boilers in the hotel basement must have exploded. The sound of the explosion was heard throughout the city, awakening people in bed a mile from the scene. A cloud of dust was thrown a thousand feet in the air, and, as there was not a breath of wind, it hung in the air like a huge column. At 12:50 the ruins began burning fiercely and the firemen were obliged to retreat from the work of rescue. Every engine in the city was at work pouring streams into the mass, but the flames could not be got under control before many of the injured were cremated. As their chances of escape lessened the cries of the imprisoned people increased, heart-rending shrieks rising from every portion of the great mass of wreckage.

During the heat of the excitement a team ran away on 18th street, stampeding the great crowd of spectators. A number of people were more or less injured by being trampled upon and falling in the broken glass which covers the streets and sidewalks in every direction. Electric-light wires dangling from broken poles in the alley added fresh peril to the firemen. One horse was burned by coming in contact with a live wire.

Two injured women had been almost extricated from the ruins when the flames approached so close that the rescuers had to abandon them for their safety. Both died, fire completing the work commenced by the explosion. The bodies of three women were seen in the back part of the building, but could not be reached.

TRIED TO SAVE HIS CHILD.

Heroic Act of a Father at Algonquin, Ill.

Elgin, Ill., Aug. 19.—Two people were burned to death and three were injured, one perhaps fatally, by a fire that swept away an entire block of buildings and residences in the heart of the village of Algonquin, near here, last night. The property loss is $35,000; insurance, one-half. The dead are:

KAZAR, F. D., aged 30 years.

KAZAR, SILVA, aged 5 years, daughter of F. D. Kazar.

The injured:

Kazar, Mrs. F. D., badly bruised and may not recover.

Infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kazar, badly burned.

Phillip, James, badly burned.

F. D. Kazar and his little family had just gone to bed for the night and had got well asleep when, it is supposed, a lamp that had been left burning low in the dining-room exploded. In an instant the interior of the dry wooden house was ablaze. Kazar and his wife were awakened by the noise of the explosion or the smoke. They jumped from their bed in the second story. Kazar grabbed two of his children and made a dash for the window, closely followed by his wife.

Frank Yerkes, the night watchman, who had discovered the flames when they first started, saw the Kazar family in the window about to jump to the ground. He shouted to them to wait for him to run up a ladder, which he did in a twinkling, there being one on the premises. Then the father, with a child in each arm, climbed down to the ground. Mrs. Kazar came after him in such a hurry that she nearly fell. "My God, I've forgotten Silva!" shrieked Kazar, as he surveyed his family to see that all were safe.

Up in the flaming second story the little girl was sleeping. Perhaps she already was dead, for the yellow and red tongues of fire were licking the window of the room where she lay and black smoke poured out in ominous volumes.

The father, deaf to the expostulations of his neighbors, who had come half dressed to the fire, dashed up the ladder he had just descended and disappeared into the little girl's room. James Platt of Chicago and Ed Morton hustled up close behind him. After a moment's wait near the top of the ladder they saw Kazar staggering with a burden in his arms through the smoke and embers toward the window. They sank to the floor overcome by the heat and smoke. The two young men, themselves faint from breathing hot fumes, tugged away at the prostrate form, but they could not move it. Finally the would-be rescuers were obliged to give up their work and make a dash for the ground to save their own lives.

Mrs. Kazar, who had been a hysterical witness of this scene, now rushed to the rescue herself. Up the ladder she dashed nimbly as a fireman. A furnace of fire belched out at her from the window where her husband and child lay burning to death. Maddened by this, the mother, not knowing what she did, rushed on up the ladder until the roof was gained. There she stood amid the smoke and live embers like a specter. Volunteers were found, who climbed to the roof and brought her down by main force. She screamed all the time. She was found to be so seriously burned about the face and chest that she may die. James Philip, who assisted in her rescue, was seriously burned.

The flames spread both ways from the Kazar house. In two hours they had destroyed the store and dwelling owned by James Winkie and occupied by F. D. Kazar, the store occupied by Joseph Winkie, the dwelling of C. C. Chum, ex-postmaster, and the dwelling of Ed Chappell. The burned district is in the very center of the village. It seemed for a time that the entire place would be swept out of existence. There was little wind blowing at the time and to this is attributed the comparatively narrow limits of the fire.

Algonquin is a village of 1,500 inhabitants, situated on the Northwestern Railway, in the southeastern part of McHenry county, Illinois, about forty miles from Chicago.

FATAL FIRE IN OHIO.

Steel Whip Company's Plant Burns—Two Men Killed.

Springfield, O., Aug. 19.—The mammoth patent steel whip company's works, located at the corner of Center and North streets, were totally destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon, entailing a loss of $100,000 and may result in the death of two men. The injured:

Bancroft, —, fireman, cut and bruised.

Bauer, Peter, legs mashed, injured internally.

Creager, —, fireman, cut and bruised.

King, R. Q., three ribs mashed, head mashed; will probably die.

Koontz, —, fire captain, bruised.

Todd, Harry, burned; in a serious condition.

Wear, John, struck by falling ladders, scalp torn, injured internally.

Thorpe, —, fireman, cut and bruised.

The fire was evidently of incendiary origin, as at 3 o'clock a man was seen to run through the shop and scale the fence. He then disappeared down the alley. Not three minutes after Hugh McDonald saw smoke and two alarms of fire were sent in, calling out the entire department.

When the first engine company arrived the entire building was in flames and evidently doomed. Some fifteen firemen were ordered to the roof; besides them went Robert Q. King, ex-chief of the fire department and a former fire commissioner, and Peter Bauer, a machinist. They were standing near a brick wall many feet from the ground. Without any warning the wall gave way and the entire party was precipitated to the ground, completely buried under tons of brick and mortar. A rescuing party at once went to work and got every one out. All were completely buried. A heavy wind was blowing and no less than eight dwellings were fired, one being nearly three squares from the fire. The insurance is but $165,000.

Three Firemen Injured.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 19.—Fire which started from an unknown cause in a large shed in the yard of the J. L. Thomlinson Lumber Company on Knowlton street yesterday afternoon destroyed a large quantity of lumber and several small buildings. Three horses in a small stable were burned to death. A roof on one of the sheds upon which several firemen were stationed caved in during the fire, and three of them were injured, but none seriously. The loss will reach $25,000. There is a partial insurance.

Driving Park Burns Again.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 19.—The barns at Lake View driving park were wiped out by fire yesterday morning, incurring a loss of about $6,000. Stabled at the barns at the time were seventeen head of fine horses, four of which suffocated.

SEVENTEEN DROWN
IN SIGHT OF HELP

STEAMER SINKS A BOAT CONTAINING TWENTY FIVE.

Eight Out of the Entire Number Saved—Steamer City of Sheffield Goes Down Near Cairo—Family Drowned in Shallow Water at Atlantic City, Md.

Hamburg, Aug. 19.—A boat containing twenty-five passengers was sunk today by the steamer, Concordia. Seventeen were drowned.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 19.—The steamer, City of Sheffield, sunk here at midnight. No lives were lost.

Ocean City, M.D., Aug. 19.—By the overloading of a small pleasure boat yesterday an entire family was drowned and two other families are in mourning. The dead are:

HALL, LINA, aged 19.

HALL, LULU, aged 14.

STEVENS, MYRTLE, aged 14.

STORR, WILLIAM, aged 45.

STORR, LAURA, aged 35.

STORR, IDA, aged 16.

STORR, MAY, aged 14.

A party of farmers from the neighborhood of Frankford and Shelbyville, Del., had a fish fry on Grey's creek, a branch of the Isle of Wight bay, with bathing, fishing and amusements.

William Hudson carried a party of nine out sailing, and as the boat was about to come back the women of the party jumped screaming on the high side, capsizing the little craft, which was hardly large enough to carry five persons.

The capsizing occurred within 200 yards of the shore and in water seven feet deep. Mr. Storr had only one hand and was blind in one eye, but was an expert swimmer. He succeeded in getting his two daughters on the bottom of the boat, and was getting his wife, when the girls became scared and slipped off the boat and went to their parents and together the four perished. Hudson, who was sailing the boat, got the two Hall girls on the boat and was trying to save Miss Stevens, when they slipped off and were drowned before he could get to them. Two other young ladies who were in the boat, were rescued by a fisherman, who put off from the shore as the boat capsized. Mr. Storr was found shortly after that. His family and Miss Stevens' body was found by hauling a seine. Large parties are searching for the bodies of the other two.

The Storrs family resided at 4919 Lancaster avenue, Philadelphia. Mr. Storrs was married in this neighborhood and yearly he brought his family down for a two weeks' outing. They were very fond of aquatic sports and spent most of their time boating and fishing.

Hudson, the skipper, protested to Mr. Storrs against the party crowding into his small boat, which could only carry comfortably four persons. Storrs answered: "Oh, there is no danger. The water is shallow, we are so close to shore, and the wind is light."

The bodies, when recovered by the searching parties, presented a horrible sight, particularly that of Mrs. Storrs. Crabs had eaten the flesh from her face, exposing her teeth and even the roots of her tongue. The ends of the fingers of all had been eaten away, and their eyes had disappeared.

Before entering the boat Mrs. Storrs took her husband's gold watch, over $100 in money and their rings and other valuables and tied them in her apron. She was lightly clutching the bundle in death.

Celebrate Anniversary of Gravelotte. Berlin, Aug. 19.—There was splendid weather yesterday, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle of Gravelotte, which had so decisive an influence upon the Franco-Prussian war. The anniversary was signalized here by the laying of the foundation stone of the national monument to the late Emperor William I. by his grandson, Emperor William II., in the presence of many of the German sovereigns and other dignitaries.

Holmes' Castle Burns. Chicago, Ill., Aug. 19.—Holmes' notorious "castle," sixty-third and Wallace streets, the place of murder and mystery, was almost destroyed by fire early this morning, the walls and part of the roof alone remaining. The origin of the blaze is almost as much a mystery as that of the one which partially wrecked it several years ago.

Old Telegraph Operator Dead. Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 19.—H. R. Maxwell, one of the oldest telegraphers in the United States, is dead. He was 66 years of age, and had been an operator for forty-six years. He served in the Confederate army as a telegrapher, and it was he who notified Harper's Ferry by wire when John Brown was marching on that place.

Tragedy Caused by Liquor. Chicago, Aug. 19.—August Hoffman, while under the influence of liquor Saturday night drove his wife and three small children from their home at No. 164 Johnson street. Then Hoffman took Paris green. When Mrs. Hoffman returned to the house he was dead.

Furniture Factory Burns. Holland, Mich., Aug. 19.—The Holland furniture factory, valued at $50,000, employing 250 men, was burned at 11:30 last night.

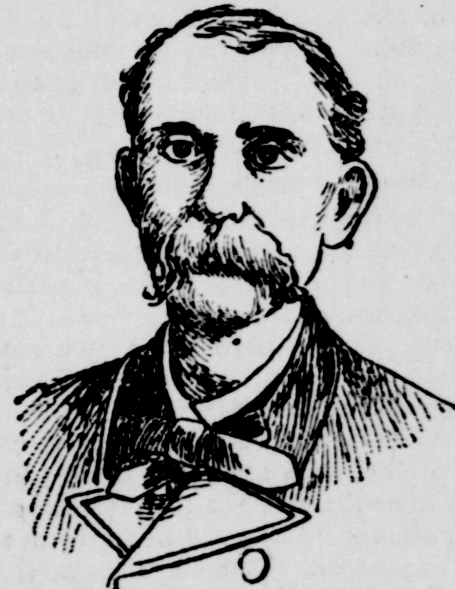

VEST MAKERS STRIKE
FOR THE OLD TERMSTWENTY FIVE HUNDRED QUIT
IN NEW YORK.

Renewal of the Former Agreements Demanded—Wisconsin Strike Believed to be Settled—Six Hundred Men to Return to Work This Week.

New York, Aug. 19.—Twenty five hundred union vest makers struck this morning for a renewal of the old agreement.

West Superior, Wis., Aug. 19.—The coal strike is practically settled, and about 600 men will return to work this week. A meeting was held yesterday by the strikers' committee, coal company managers, and city aldermen, and an agreement entered into to declare the strike off; the old men to return to work at the old wages of 40 cents an hour in the hold and 17½ cents on the deck. The representatives of the strikers endeavored to secure some concessions in regard to overtime work, but the managers refused to allow this. The strikers as a body will probably ratify the action of their representatives. Nearly 150 boats destined for this port have been unloaded at other places on account of the strike.

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 19.—Reports from Cuba last night are that Gen. Maximo Gomez died from consumption July 31.

GEN. MAXIMO GOMEZ.

Other reports are that he died from the effects of wounds. The autonomist party was to hold a meeting in Havana last night, called by Marcos Garcia to ask Spain to give Cuba autonomy. Cubans here deny that Gomez was ever afflicted with consumption, and as the report is not official they attach no importance to it.

Will Renominate Diaz.

City of Mexico, Aug. 19.—Preparations are making on a grand scale for celebrating the anniversary of national independence and the birthday of President Diaz, whose nomination by the liberal party for the fourth consecutive term is practically assured, although he has given no intimation that he will accept. Leaders of his party are going ahead with preparations for nominating him, and it is now reported that a grand convention of the party will be called for a date early in the coming year.

Heavy Storm in the East.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 19.—This city was swept by a heavy rainstorm last night that did considerable damage. Several buildings were blown down and telegraph and telephone wires seriously interfered with. The rain fall was remarkable, forty-five hundredths of an inch falling in twenty minutes. Street car travel was interrupted for a time, and the many small losses throughout the city will aggregate a large amount.

Fireman Instantly Killed.

Middleton, N. Y., Aug. 19.—At an early hour this morning Ontario & Western No. 29, west-bound, crashed into two box-cars which projected from a siding over the main tracks at Bernhardt's Bay, near Oneida. A fireman was instantly killed. Engineer Kinney and Head Brakeman J. Breed were badly injured. The responsibility for the accident has not been fixed.

Germans Decorate Graves.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Despite the prohibition, some of the old soldiers of the war of 1870 from Darmstadt crossed the frontier to Amannville to place wreaths upon the tombs of the German soldiers. The French police treated them politely, but insisted upon the removal of the inscriptions from the wreaths.

May Not Accomplish Anything.

London, Aug. 19.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Times telegraphs as follows: "The consular expedition to Kucheng prove futile. China's attitude in trifling with this serious question is likely to lead to further trouble."

Killed Her Husband.

Dayton, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Furious with jealousy Mrs. Thomas Holman shot her husband, a barber, through the heart yesterday. He fell dead without speaking a word. The woman was arrested and is now in jail.

Indicted for the Stillwell Murder.

Hannibal, Mo., Aug. 19.—Dr. Joseph Heerne and his wife, formerly Mrs. Amos J. Stillwell, were Saturday night indicted for the murder of Amos J. Stillwell, the millionaire pork packer, on the night of Dec. 29, 1888.

CHARGE CRUELTY.

Grand Army Men in Kansas Will Make an Investigation.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 19.—The officers of the Grand Army in Kansas will insist that thorough and open investigation be made of the charges of cruelty to old soldiers in the state insane asylum. Some time ago a small book was published by an ex-employee of the Osawatimie asylum, in which he charged that M. M. Young, an old soldier, had been murdered by attendants. There are 100 old soldiers in the state asylums for the insane in Kansas and the Grand Army purposes to cause a searching investigation to be made of their treatment. Numerous stories have been circulated recently to the effect that inhuman cruelties were practiced on them and other patients at both the Osawatimie and Topeka asylums.

Shot in His Own Doorway.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 19.—Shortly after midnight last night James Hurd heard two men cursing at the front door. He called to them to move on, threatening to have them arrested. One of them responded by telling him if he wanted them to leave to make them leave. Hurd went to the door and saw two men standing a few feet back in the darkness. As soon as they saw him they began firing. Hurd fell with a bullet in his left breast and immediately expired. No arrests have been made as yet.

Big Find of Gold.

Virginia City, Nev., Aug. 19.—There is considerable excitement over the discovery of gold quartz in the Padroll mine in Silver City, six miles from Virginia. Emanuel Padroll, a rancher, has discovered a ledge on his ranch working $100 per ton. He made a clean-up of $10,000 yesterday. Plenty more of the same ore is in sight and assays going up to $150 per ton have been obtained.

Death of a Wisconsin Senator.

Amnicon, Minn., Aug. 19.—Ex-State Senator Walter S. Maxwell, of Kenosha, Wis., was found dead in his bed yesterday. He was 59 years of age. The post-mortem developed that he died from the bursting of a blood vessel, occasioned evidently by a coughing spell. Mr. Maxwell was manager of the Amnicon Brownstone company and one of its proprietors.

Railroad Bridge Opened.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 19.—The Big Four ran its first passenger train into Louisville over the new Louisville and Jeffersonville bridge at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. This is the bridge on which so many lives were lost during its construction. The bridge, with its approaches, is about two miles long.

Desperado Captured.

South McAlester, I. T., Aug. 19.—Yesterday, near the Canadian river, Deputy Marshal Charles Baird captured Foster Holbrook, one of the most desperate of the Christian gang of robbers, lodging him in jail here last night.

LEAP OF AN ENGINE
COST TWO LIVESFATAL ACCIDENT NEAR PESH-
TIGO TODAY.

Locomotive Rolls Into a Ditch—Brakemen Instantly Killed and Engineer Will Die—Racine Speculator Shoots Himself Three Times—Desperate Fond du Lac Men Break Jail.

Peshigo, Aug. 19.—Early this morning engine No. 5, on Wisconsin and Michigan jumped the track near the Bagley Junction and rolled over into the ditch. Conductor Adams and brakemen LaCroix and McAllister were on the engine. LaCroix was instantly killed and Engineer Webster was fatally injured.

Racine Speculator Shoots Himself. Racine, Aug. 19.—Swan Gunderson, one of the oldest residents of the county and prominent in politics, attempted suicide by shooting three holes into his head and neck today. He cannot recover. Gunderson was wealthy once and was a prominent speculator on the board of trade.

Desperate Men Break Jail. Fond du Lac, Aug. 19.—James Connors and Edgar Sheldon, two desperate criminals, broke jail last evening by sawing through the bars of their cell. They left no clue.

FAVORS FREE SILVER. Ex-Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania Talks.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Ex-Representative J. C. Sibley of Pennsylvania, candidate of the Bimetallic league for president of the United States, is in Washington, en route home from North Carolina. Mr. Sibley indignantly denounces the statements that the sentiment expressed in the league's platform is dying out. He says that it is growing faster than it can be organized and believes a direct vote on the question in New York and Pennsylvania would carry these states by a large majority for free silver.

KILL THE JAILER. Afterwards Samuel Lewis, Several Times a Murderer, Is Hanged.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Aug. 19.—Samuel Lewis, murderer of three men, was taken from jail at Juno by a mob of masked men and lynched. When the mob demanded Lewis the jailer said it could have him if it would harm no one else. The mob consented.

As the door door opened a negro deputy ran out. Some one fired, missing him and killing Gustave Kaiser, the jailer. The mob continued firing at the negro, but he escaped.

Four men then entered the jail and took Lewis, who begged pitifully for his life, to a telegraph pole, where he was hanged. Then the body was riddled with bullets.

Lewis shot and killed John Highsmith, ex-tax collector of Dade county, and his brother-in-law, George Davis, in cold blood. The murderer escaped, but a posse went for and found him Aug. 9. In arresting him Lewis shot and killed Deputy County Clerk Ret McGregor. Lewis is said to have killed five men before.

The Beatrice Defalcations. Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 19.—The alleged defalcations of Water Commissioner Hawkins and City Clerk Phillips still occupy the most intense interest. Deputy Sheriff Kyd captured J. T. Phillips, the fugitive city clerk, at Powell, a station on the St. Joseph & Grand Island Railroad. Failing to secure bondsmen, he went to jail. There is abundant evidence of a wholesale abstraction of city warrants on the water, street and general funds. Pages of warrants have been torn out of each of the warrant books, and from the water fund book an entire quire of warrants has been torn out. Numerous duplicated warrants are turning up and the case looks very bad for the officers.

Spaniards Dying in Cuba. Havana, Aug. 19.—The sickness amongst the Spanish troops does not abate. A battalion of the Guadalajara Regiment, quartered at Mayar, Province of Santiago de Cuba, reports that six officers died within a few days. The volunteers display no enthusiasm. They are paid $30 in gold monthly while serving. Reports from all the provinces concur that the condition of the country grows worse daily. It is impossible to obtain an advance to pay the laborers on the plantations.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
BY DR. TALMAGE"COMFORT" THE SUBJECT OF
LAST WEEK'S TALK.Golden Text: And God Shall Wipe Away
All Tears from Their Eyes—Revelations, Chapter VII, Verse 17—A Stirring Appeal.

TRAVELING across a western prairie, wild flowers up to the hub of the carriage wheel, and while a long distance from any shelter, there came a sudden shower, and while the rain was falling in torrents, the sun was shining as brightly as I ever saw it shine; and I thought, What a beautiful spectacle this is! So the tears of the Bible are not midnight storm, but rain on pansied prairies in God's sweet and golden sunlight. You remember that bottle which David labeled as containing tears, and Mary's tears, and Paul's tears, and Christ's tears, and the harvest of joy that is to spring from the sowing of tears. God mixes them. God rounds them. God shows them where to fall. God exhales them. A census is taken of them, and there is a record as to the moment when they are born, and as to the place of their grave.

Tears of bad men are not kept. Alexander, in his sorrow, had the hair clipped from his horses and mules, and made a great ado about his grief; but in all the vases of heaven there is not one of Alexander's tears. I speak of the tears of God's children. Alas! they are falling all the time. In summer, you sometimes hear the growling thunder, and you see there is a storm miles away; but you know from the drift of the clouds that it will not come anywhere near you. So, though it may be all right around you, there is a shower of trouble somewhere all the time. Tears! Tears!

What is the use of them, anyhow? Why not substitute laughter? Why not make this a world where all the people are well, and eternal strangers to pain and aches? What is the use of an eastern storm when we might have a perpetual nor'wester? Why, when a family is put together, not have them all stay, or if they must be transplanted to make other homes, then have them all live?—the family record telling a story of marriages and births, but of no deaths. Why not have the harvests chase each other without fatiguing toil? Why the hard pillow, the hard crust, the hard struggle? It is easy enough to explain a smile, or a success, or a congratulation; but, come now, and bring all your dictionaries and all your philosophies and all your religions, and help me explain a tear. A chemist will tell you that it is made up of salt and lime and other component parts; but he misses the chief ingredients—the acid of a soured life, the viperine sting of a bitter memory, the fragments of a broken heart. I will tell you what a tear is; it is agony in solution. Hear then, while I discourse of the uses of trouble.

First. It is the design of trouble to keep this world from being too attractive. Something must be done to make us willing to quit this existence. If it were not for trouble this world would be a good enough heaven for me. You and I would be willing to take a lease of this life for a hundred million years if there were no trouble. The earth cushioned and upholstered and pillared and chandeliered with such expense, no story of other worlds could enchant us.

We would say: "Let well enough alone. If you want to die and have your body disintegrated in the dust, and your soul go out on a celestial adventure, then you can go, but this world is good enough for me!" You might as well go to a man who has just entered the Louvre at Paris, and tell him to hasten off to the picture-galleries of Venice or Florence. "Why," he would say, "What is the use of my going there? There are Rembrandts and Rubens and Raphaels here that I haven't looked at yet." No man wants to go out of this world, or out of any house, until he has a better house. To cure this wish to stay here, God must somehow create a disgust for our surroundings. How shall he do it? He cannot afford to deface his horizon, or to tear off a fiery panel from the sunset, or to subtract an anchor from the water-lily, or to banish the pungent aroma from the magnolia, or to drag the robes of the morning in mire. You cannot expect a Christopher Wren to mar his own St. Paul's cathedral, or a Michael Angelo to dash out his own "Last Judgment," or a Handel to discord his "Israel in Egypt," and you cannot expect God to spoil the architecture and music of his own world. How, then, are we to be made willing to leave? Here is where the trouble comes in.

After a man has had a good deal of trouble, he says: "Well, I am ready to go. If there is a house somewhere whose roof doesn't leak, I would like to live there. If there is an atmosphere somewhere that does not distress the lungs, I would like to breathe it. If there is a society somewhere where there is no little-tattle, I would like to live there. If there is a home circle somewhere where I can find my lost friends, I would like to go there." He used to read the first part of the Bible chiefly; now he reads the last part of the Bible chiefly. Why has he changed Genesis for Revelation? Ah! he used to be anxious chiefly to know how this world was made, and all about its geological construction. Now he is chiefly anxious to know how the next world was made, and how it looks, and who live there, and how they dress. He reads

Revelation ten times now where he reads Genesis once. The old story, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth," does not thrill him half as much as the other story, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth." The old man's hand trembles as he turns over this apocalyptic leaf, and he has to take out his handkerchief to wipe his spectacles. That book of Revelation is a prospectus now of the country into which he is soon to immigrate; the country in which he has lots already laid out, and avenues opened, and mansions built.

Yet there are people here to whom this world is brighter than heaven. Well, dear souls, I do not blame you. It is natural. But after awhile you will be ready to go. It was not until Job had been worn out with bereavements that he wanted to see God. It was not until the prodigal son got tired living among the hogs that he wanted to go to his father's house. It is the ministry of trouble to make this world worth less and heaven worth more.

Again, it is the use of trouble to make us feel our dependence upon God. Men think they can do anything until God shows them they can do nothing at all. We lay out great plans, and we like to execute them. It looks big. God comes and takes us down. As Prometheus was assaulted by his enemy, when the lance struck him it opened a great swelling that had threatened his death, and he got well. So it is the arrow of trouble that lets out great swelling of pride. We never feel our dependence upon God until we get trouble. I was riding with my little child along the road, and she asked me if she might drive. I said, "Certainly." I handed over the reins to her, and I had to admire the glee with which she drove. But after awhile we met a team and we had to turn out. The road was narrow, and it was sheer down on both sides. She handed the reins over to me, and said, "I think you had better take charge of the horse." So we are all children; and on this road of life we like to drive. It gives one the appearance of superiority and power. It looks big. But after awhile we meet some obstacle and we have to turn out, and the road is narrow, and it is sheer down on both sides; and then we are willing that God should take the reins and drive. Ah! my friends, we get upset so often because we do not hand over the reins soon enough.

It is trouble, my friends, that makes us feel our dependence upon God. We do not know our own weakness or God's strength until the last plank breaks. It is contemptible in us when there is nothing else to catch hold of, that we catch hold of God only. Why, you do not know who the Lord is! He is not an autocrat seated far up in a palace, from which he emerges once a year, preceded by heralds swinging swords to clear the way. No. But a Father willing, at our call, to stand by us in every crisis and predicament in life. I tell you what some of you business men make me think of. A young man goes off from home to earn his fortune. He goes with his mother's consent and benediction. She has large wealth, but he wants to make his own fortune. He goes far away, falls sick, gets out of money. He sends for the hotelkeeper where he is staying, asking for lenience, and the answer he gets is, "If you don't pay up Saturday night you'll be removed to the hospital."

The young man sends to a comrade in the same building. No help. He writes to a banker who was a friend of his deceased father. No relief. He writes to an old schoolmate, but gets no help. Saturday night comes, and he is moved to the hospital.

Getting there, he is frenzied with grief; and he borrows a sheet of paper and a postage-stamp and he sits down, and he writes home, saying: "Dear mother, I am sick unto death. Come." It is ten minutes of 10 o'clock when she gets the letter. At 10 o'clock the train starts. She is five minutes from the depot. She gets there in time to have five minutes to spare. She wonders why a train that can go thirty miles an hour cannot go sixty miles an hour. She rushes into the hospital. She says: "My son, what does all this mean? Why didn't you send for me? You sent to everybody but me. You knew I could and would help you. Is this the reward I get for my kindness to you always?" She bundles him up, takes him home, and gets him well very soon. Now, some of you treat God just as that young man treated his mother. When you get into a financial perplexity, you call on the banker, you call on the broker, you call on your creditors, you call on your lawyers for legal counsel; you call upon everybody, and when you cannot get any help, then you go to God. You say: "O Lord, I come to thee. Help me now out of my perplexity." And the Lord comes, though it is in the eleventh hour. He says: "Why did you not send for me before? As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." It is to throw us back upon God that we have this ministry of tears.

Again, it is the use of trouble to capacitate us for the office of sympathy. The priests, under the old dispensation, were set apart by having water sprinkled upon their heads, feet, and head; and by the sprinkling of tears people are now set apart to the office of sympathy. When we are in prosperity we like to have a great many young people around us, and we laugh when they laugh, and we romp when they romp, and we sing when they sing; but when we have trouble we like plenty of old folks around. Why? They know how to talk. Take an aged mother, seventy years of age, and she is almost omnipotent in comfort. Why? She has been through it all. At 7 o'clock in the morning she goes over to comfort a young mother who has just lost her babe. Grandmother knows all about that trouble. Fifty years ago she felt it. At twelve o'clock of that day she goes over to comfort a widowed soul. She knows all about that. She has been walking in that dark valley twenty years. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon some one knocks at the door, wanting bread. She knows all about that. Two or three times in her life she came to her last loaf. At 10 o'clock that night she goes over to sit up with some one severely sick. She knows all about it. She knows all about fevers and pleurisy and broken bones. She has been doctoring all her life, spreading plasters and pouring out bitter drops and shaking up hot pillows and contriving things to tempt a poor appetite. Doctors Abernethy and Rush and Hosack and Harvey were great doctors, but the greatest doctor the world ever saw is an old Christian woman! Dear me! Do we not remember her about the room when we were sick in our boyhood? Was there any one who could ever so touch a sore without hurting it?

Where did Paul get the ink with which to write his comforting epistle? Where did David get the ink to write his comforting psalms? Where did John get the ink to write his comforting Revelation? They got it out of their own tears. When a man has gone through the curriculum, and has taken a course of dungeons and imprisonments and shipwrecks, he is qualified for the work of sympathy.

When I began to preach, my sermons on the subject of trouble were all poetic and in semi-blank verse; but God knocked the blank verse out of me long ago, and I have found that I cannot comfort people except as I myself have been troubled. God make me the son of consolation to the people. I would rather be the means of soothing one perturbed spirit today, than to play a tune that would set all the sons of mirth reeling in the dance.

I am a herb doctor. I put into the caldron the Root out of dry ground, without form or comeliness. Then I put in the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley. Then I put into the caldron some of the leaves from the Tree of Life, and the Branch that was thrown into the wilderness Marah. Then I pour in the tears of Bethany and Golgotha; then I stir them up. Then I kindle under the caldron a fire made out of the wood of the cross, and one drop of that potion will cure the worst sickness that ever afflicted a human soul. Mary and Martha shall receive their Lazarus from the tomb. The damsel shall rise. And on the darkness shall break the morning, and God will wipe all tears from their eyes.

Have you any appreciation of the good and glorious times your friends are having in heaven? How different it is when they get news there of a Christian's death from what it is here! It is the difference between embarkation and coming into port. Everything depends upon which side of the river you stand when you hear of a Christian's death. If you stand on this side of the river, you mourn that they go. If you stand on the other side of the river, you rejoice that they come. Oh, the difference between a funeral on earth and a jubilee in heaven—between requiem here and triumph there—parting here and reunion there! Together! Have you thought of it? They are together. Not one of your departed friends in one land and another in another land; but together, in different rooms of the same house—the house of many mansions. Together!

I never more appreciated that thought than when we laid away in her last slumber my sister Sarah. Standing there in the village cemetery, I looked around and said: "There is father, there is mother, there is grandfather, there is grandmother, there are whole circles of kindred;" and I thought to myself, "Together in the grave—together in glory." I am so impressed with the thought that I do not think it is any fanaticism when some one is going from this world to the next if you make them the bearer of dispatches to your friends who are gone, saying: "Give my love to my parents, give my love to my children, give my love to my old comrades who are in glory, and tell them I am trying to fight the good fight of faith, and I will join them after awhile." I believe the message will be delivered; and I believe it will increase the gladness of those who are before the throne. Together are they, all their tears gone.

My friends take this good cheer home with you. These tears of bereavement that course your cheek, and of persecution, and of trial, are not always to be there. The motherly hand of God will wipe them all away. What is the use, on the way to such a consummation—what is the use of fretting about anything? Oh, what an exhilaration it ought to be in Christian work! See you the pinnacles against the sky? It is the city of our God, and we are approaching it. Oh, let us be busy in the days that remain for us!

I put this balsam on the wounds of your heart. Rejoice at the thought of what your departed friends have got rid of, and that you have a prospect of so soon making your own escape. Bear cheerfully the ministry of tears, and exult at the thought that soon it is to be ended. There we shall march up the heavenly street, And ground our arms at Jesus' feet.

FARMING PAYS.

No one who has seen the great barns of Lancaster, Pa., will be surprised to learn that, according to the last census, it is the banner county of the United States in agricultural production. The value of its crops in the census year was $7,657,700. Next in order in annual farm products come St. Lawrence county, New York, with $6,651,160; Chester county, Pa., $5,863,870; Worcester county, Mass., $5,489,430; Bucks county, Pa., $5,411,370; Colusa county, Cal., $5,357,350. The future possibilities of agriculture in this country may be judged from these figures. If free traders are under the impression that the most successful American farmers are in favor of their theories, a glance at the politics of these counties may disturb the opinion. At the last presidential election of majorities of the counties were as follows: For Harrison: Lancaster, 9800; Chester, 3132; Worcester, 6333; St. Lawrence, 7021; total, 26,286. For Cleveland: Bucks, 151; Colusa, 542; total, 693. The year taken is a favorable one for the democrats, as Cleveland carried the county.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Railroad traffic shows substantial increase while in all leading industries the activity is altogether beyond the normal midsummer limit. A new record has been made in the iron output, that of the early days of August being the greatest ever known in the United States at this time of the year, and it was exceeded only once in any time of the year, and that was in February, 1892. The figures for that date, it is expected, will soon be exceeded, as production is steadily increasing, and many large orders, it is believed, are held back in the fear that if presented now they would cause a large advance in prices. The shipments of iron ore through the "Soo" canal in July were 1,469,388 tons, which are largely in excess of those of the same month in 1894. In the general metal and textile manufactures the output is much larger than has been known in July and August since 1892.

NO COAL WAR.

The anthracite coal operators are not doing business for fun; consequently they do not hesitate to deny the report that it was proposed to dump a million tons of coal on the market at about half price in an effort to discover whether such a movement would help to bring order out of the demoralization which prevails in the coal trade. Killing ruinous competition by dropping prices to a point at which cost is no longer a consideration is a favorite method by which the Standard Oil company is wont to clear the atmosphere in disputed territory; but no interest in the anthracite coal trade appears to have either the nerve or the resources requisite for such heroic measures.

Hard times, strange to say, did not lessen the enormous consumption of cigars and cigarettes. The sales of the latter during the past year amounted to 3,333,845,500, an increase over the year preceding, while the number of cigars footed up 4,130,440,370. Tobacco has slipped from the list of luxuries and must be regarded hereafter as a necessity.

No wonder Whitney and Carlisle are proof against the temptation of a presidential nomination. The free silver men are determined to rule or ruin, and as their rule is ruin, democrats are in a perilous situation.

Big Irrigation Scheme.

Santa Fe, N.M., Aug. 19.—Positive information has been received here that the Smith and Boyd irrigating projects have been practically consolidated and placed in the hands of C. B. Eddy, who undertakes to finance this scheme, place the bonds and do for the Rio Grande Valley what he has done for the Pecos. An immense dam is to be thrown across the Rio Grande near Old Fort Selden, from which ditches will extend south on either side of the river for a distance of forty miles.

Capture a Murderer.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 19.—William B. Ray, who shot and killed A. C. Crane at Sedalia, Mo., about a month ago and escaped, was captured at Anaconda by Officer Cole, who had known Ray in Missouri. Ray was marshal of Sedalia at the time of the shooting, which was the result of an old feud. Crane, it is said, was a man of some prominence. Ray claims Crane hounded him and he had to shoot him. Ray will go back without requisition papers.

Fatal Riot Over Church Affairs.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 19.—At a riot in St. Peter and St. Paul's catholic church yesterday Charles Weireyorek was fatally and Tony Fordico and Simon Wagon dangerously injured. Some of the members are opposed to the priest, and attempted to prevent the celebration of mass. Three arrests have been made, and the church property is under guard.

San Francisco in Line.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, has let contracts for construction in this city of the tallest building west of Chicago. The structure will be situated at the corner of Market and Third streets, and will be fifteen stories high. The estimated cost is $1,000,000.

Fire in a Michigan Town.

Montgomery, Mich., Aug. 19.—Early yesterday morning fire destroyed between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of business property here. Nine buildings were burned. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. The insurance aggregates $12,300.

The Decadence of Falls Church.

No country village has reached an ideal existence until it can boast of a brass band. Every citizen from the small boy up to his honor, the mayor, takes a personal interest in such an organization and is ready to root for it on state occasions. Once upon a time we had a band that dispensed soul-inspiring music during the long summer evenings, but now these rehearsals, concerts, and serenades are as myths of the past, and Falls Church has degenerated into a bandless town.—Ex.

Damage Near Bradford, Pa.

Bradford, Pa., Aug. 19.—An electric storm, accompanied by hail, passed over this section at 7 o'clock last evening. At Custer City hail stones fell measuring six inches in circumference. Considerable damage was done.

Whitehead, of the same place as mortgagee, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars and interest thereon, and said mortgagee has assigned said mortgage by an instrument in writing, duly executed, acknowledged and delivered to Annie Bull, of the city of Janesville, county and state aforesaid, which mortgage was dated the eighth day of April, A. D. 1892, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Rock County in the eighth day of May, A. D. 1892, at 10:15 o'clock, a. m., in volume 69 of mortgages at page 381 and which assignment was dated the sixth day of August, A. D. 1895, and recorded in said office of Register of Deeds of said county on the seventeenth day of August, 1895, at 9:40 o'clock, a. m., in volume 74 of mortgages at page 165; and

WHEREAS, said mortgage was given to secure the payment of money by installments, and WHEREAS, default in the conditions of such mortgage relating to the payment of an installment of said due May first, A. D. 1894, and of another of $100.00, due May first, A. D. 1895, and relating to the payment of interest money, has occurred, and said assignee has exercised the option contained in said mortgage to determine the whole amount of the principal sum with all arrearage of late interest thereon due and payable immediately; and

WHEREAS, said mortgage contains a power of sale and no action has been commenced to recover the debt now remaining secured by such mortgage, or any part thereof; and

WHEREAS, the amount claimed to be due at the date of this notice, is the sum of $312.11; and

WHEREAS, a description of the mortgaged premises is as follows: Lot 1, in the first five (5), in Riverside Addition to Janesville, according to the duly recorded plat thereof, in the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin.

NOW, THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that such mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, at public auction or vendue, on the first day of October, A. D. 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the west front corner of the Court House in said city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin.

Section 227. Any person who has taken such contract from said board to construct a private drain or sewer from any lot, shall be authorized to enter upon such lot and construct thereon such drain or sewer, and shall have free ingress and egress upon the same with men for that purpose, and to deposit all the necessary building materials, and generally to do and perform all things necessary to a complete execution of the work.

Section 228. No private drain shall be connected with any public sewer, without a permit in writing, been issued in such manner as the common council shall have provided.

Section 229. No person is required to make connection until building, and no person shall open any connection with a public sewer, except by the consent and by the direction of the board of public works, or the officer or officers discharging its duties, and any person who shall do so, or who shall maliciously obstruct, damage or injure any public or private sewer or drain in said city for the purposes of sewerage, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed three months.

Section 230. Any contractor or other person acting under the direction of the board of the public works may lay sewers in and through any alleys and streets of said city and through any breakwater into any lake, and also into any highways, and the county whether within the limits of the city or not, provided, that it shall be the duty of such contractor to repair such streets, alleys, breakwaters and highways, and to restore the same to the former condition upon the completion of such sewers.

Section 231. Either of the duplicate diagrams filed as the final determination of a plan of sewerage for any district after the expiration of nine months from the date of such filing, shall be conclusive proof of the regularity of such proceedings to establish the validity of the plan of sewerage, and the regularity and legality of the proceedings to establish such plan of sewerage, shall not therefore be called in question in any court.

Section 232. When a plan of sewerage has been determined upon, it shall not be changed, except by a vote of three-fourths of the members of the common council in favor of the same. Such change shall be by ordinance passed at a regular meeting after the same shall have been published, at least once in each week for two successive weeks in the official paper of the city.

Section 233. When such change shall have been determined upon, duplicate diagrams shall be prepared, certified and filed as before, showing the plan of sewerage as changed, and after nine months from the date of such filing the said duplicate shall be conclusive proof of the regularity and legality of the proceedings to establish such plan of sewerage, and the regularity and legality of the proceedings to establish such plan of sewerage, shall not therefore be called in question in any court.

Section 234. Whenever a contract shall have been let for the construction of any sewer, and the amount has been determined that are chargeable to the lots or parcels of land abutting on the streets or alleys through which said sewer is to be constructed, if the common council deem it for the best interest of the property owners affected by the special assessment for the construction of the said sewer, it may cause a notice to be published in the official paper of the city once in each week, for two successive weeks, substantially in the following form:

Improvement Bonds for Sewerage Assessments.

Notice is hereby given, that a contract has been let for the construction of a sewer, as follows: (Describe the street or alley) that a statement showing the amount of the special assessment chargeable to the lots and parcels of real estate benefited by said sewer, by abutting on the street (or alley), through which said sewer is to be constructed, is now on file with the city clerk. That all parties who desire to pay the special assessment on present bonds, or the proper certificate, are hereby required to file their notices to that effect with the said clerk, before the expiration of thirty days from the date of this notice; that the city will issue its per cent, semi-annual interest coupon bonds, payable in annual installments, for an amount sufficient to cover the special assessments, which the parties owning the property do not elect to pay on the presentation of certificates in the manner stated; that said bonds will be in charge of the particular lots only, against which said assessments are levied.

Dated the _____ day of _____, 18____.

City Clerk of the city of _____.

Section 235. The city council shall have power to issue semi-annual interest coupon bonds, for an amount sufficient to recover all special assessments which the parties do not elect to pay, in accordance with said notice. Said bonds shall be semi-annual interest coupon bonds, payable in annual installments, the last of which installments shall be payable a such time as the council may determine not exceeding ten years from the first day of March next ensuing, and shall draw interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. They shall specify on their face that they were sewerage bonds, and shall contain such recitals as may be necessary to show that they are chargeable only to particular property, specifying the same, and the amount and amount of said bonds, and such other provisions as the common council may think proper to be inserted. Such bonds shall be signed by the mayor and clerk, and sealed with the corporate seal of the city. Such sewer improvement bonds shall in no event be a general city liability.

Section 236. Any portion or any installments of said bonds may be sold by the common council, at not less than par value, and the proceeds collected by the city treasurer shall be paid to the sewerage contractor, when due to him; or the contract may provide that the contractor shall take the bonds as payment on his contract at their par value, but he shall be charged with accrued interest.

Section 237. The city treasurer shall pay the interest on and principal of said bonds as the same become due, and charge the amount to the proper fund.

Section 238. In each year after the issuing of said bonds, until all of them are paid, when the tax roll of the year is prepared, sufficient of the special assessment on each parcel of land covered by said bonds, to pay the annual installment of the principal, with the interest on amount of said special assessment, then unpaid, shall be extended on the tax roll as a special tax against the property, and therefor such tax shall be treated in all respects as any other city taxes, and when collected shall constitute a special fund for the payment of such bonds and interest, and shall be used for no other purpose. After the issue of said bonds no action shall be maintained to avoid the tax provided for in this section.

Section 239. Whenever any city shall have adopted a system of sewerage and in the opinion of the common council such system has proved insufficient or inadequate, or dangerous to the health, such common council shall have full power to alter or amend its system of sewerage, and to adopt more approved methods, and to change the system as to obviate the objections to the existing system, either by altering or modifying the same, or by abandoning it, and adopting an entirely new system. In case any city council shall so decide to amend its system of drainage or to adopt a new system, it may proceed in the mode prescribed in this act or by the law, in pursuance of which such sewer or sewers were constructed, to make the necessary plans and surveys, and specifications, and to make estimates and to let contracts, and assess the expense of such work upon the lots, buildings and property thereby benefited, or in the discretion of the common council, it may cause the whole cost of such construction, alteration or change of system to be borne by the city; or it shall be lawful for the common council to cause such portion of the estimated cost of construction alteration or amending of sewers, as it shall designate, to be borne by the city, and the balance to be assessed upon the buildings and lots which may be benefited. It shall be lawful for any such city to issue its coupon bonds for an amount sufficient to cover the cost of construction of a new sewer, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent, payable in annual installments, as such time as the common council shall determine, as provided in this act.

The changes also contemplate adding a commissioner and board of public works to the officers provided by the charter, and declaring the city to be a city of the 3rd class. Under the general charter law the board of public works is to be composed of the comptroller, city engineer and city clerk, and the board of public works may afterwards be dispensed with, and their duties performed by other officers of the city, or by the council, itself.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

14—Octavius Caesar Augustus, first Roman emperor, died at Nola; born 63 B. C.

1186—Death of Geoffrey Plantagenet, brother of Richard Coeur de Lion.

1506—Birth at Holyrood palace, Scotland, of Elizabeth Stuart, daughter of James VI (and I of England), who married the Elector Palatine and thus founded the present British reigning family.

1800—James Lenox, philanthropist, founder of the Lenox library, born in New York city; died there in 1880.

1812—Fight between the Constitution and Guerriere.

1876—Michael Crawford Kerr, speaker of the house, died at Alum Springs, Va.; born 1827.

1892—Tennessee troops ambushed by striking miners. Railway switchmen's strike broken at Buffalo.

FARMING PAYS.

No one who has seen the great barns of Lancaster, Pa., will be surprised to learn that, according to the last census, it is the banner county of the United States in agricultural production. The value of its crops in the census year was $7,657,700. Next in order in annual farm products come St. Lawrence county, New York, with $6,651,160; Chester county, Pa., $5,863,870; Worcester county, Mass., $5,489,430; Bucks county, Pa., $5,411,370; Colusa county, Cal., $5,357,350. The future possibilities of agriculture in this country may be judged from these figures. If free traders are under the impression that the most successful American farmers are in favor of their theories, a glance at the politics of these counties may disturb the opinion. At the last presidential election of majorities of the counties were as follows: For Harrison: Lancaster, 9800; Chester, 1312; Worcester, 6333; St. Lawrence, 7021; total, 26,286. For Cleveland: Bucks, 151, Colusa, 542; total, 693. The year taken is a favorable one for the democrats, as Cleveland carried the country.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Railroad traffic shows substantial increase while in all leading industries the activity is altogether beyond the normal midsummer limit. A new record has been made in the iron output, that of the early days of August being the greatest ever known in the United States at this time of the year, and it was exceeded only once in any time of the year, and that was in February, 1892. The figures for that date, it is expected, will soon be exceeded, as production is steadily increasing, and many large orders, it is believed, are held back in the fear that if presented now they would cause a large advance in prices. The shipments of iron ore through the "Soo" canal in July were 1,469,388 tons, which are largely in excess of those of the same month in 1894. In the general metal and textile manufactures the output is much larger than has been known in July and August since 1892.

NO COAL WAR.

The anthracite coal operators are not doing business for fun; consequently they do not hesitate to deny the report that it was proposed to dump a million tons of coal on the market at about half price in an effort to discover whether such a movement would help to bring order out of the demoralization which prevails in the coal trade. Killing ruinous competition by dropping prices to a point at which cost is no longer a consideration is a favorite method by which the Standard Oil company is wont to clear the atmosphere in disputed territory; but no interest in the anthracite coal trade appears to have either the nerve or the resources requisite for such heroic measures.

Hard times, strange to say, did not lessen the enormous consumption of cigars and cigarettes. The sales of the latter during the past year amounted to 3,333,845,500, an increase over the year preceding, while the number of cigars footed up 4,130,440,370. Tobacco has slipped from the list of luxuries and must be regarded hereafter as a necessity.

No wonder Whitney and Carlisle are proof against the temptation of a presidential nomination. The free silver men are determined to rule or ruin, and as their rule is ruin, democrats are in a perilous situation.

Big Irrigation Scheme.

Santa Fe, N.M., Aug. 19.—Positive information has been received here that the Smith and Boyd irrigating projects have been practically consolidated and placed in the hands of C. B. Eddy, who undertakes to finance this scheme, place the bonds and do for the Rio Grande Valley what he has done for the Pecos. An immense dam is to be thrown across the Rio Grande near Old Fort Selden, from which ditches will extend south on either side of the river for a distance of forty miles.

Capture a Murderer.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 19.—William B. Ray, who shot and killed A. C. Crane at Sedalia, Mo., about a month ago and escaped, was captured at Anaconda by Officer Cole, who had known Ray in Missouri. Ray was marshal of Sedalia at the time of the shooting, which was the result of an old feud. Crane, it is said, was a man of some prominence. Ray claims Crane hounded him and he had to shoot him. Ray will go back without requisition papers.

Fatal Riot Over Church Affairs.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 19.—At a riot in St. Peter and St. Paul's catholic church yesterday Charles Weirycorek was fatally and Tony Fordico and Simon Wagon dangerously injured. Some of the members are opposed to the priest, and attempted to prevent the celebration of mass. Three arrests have been made, and the church property is under guard.

San Francisco in Line.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, has let contracts for construction in this city of the tallest building west of Chicago. The structure will be situated at the corner of Market and Third streets, and will be fifteen stories high. The estimated cost is $1,000,000.

Fire in a Michigan Town.

Montgomery, Mich., Aug. 19.—Early yesterday morning fire destroyed between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of business property here. Nine buildings were burned. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. The insurance aggregates $12,300.

The Decadence of Falls Church.

No country village has reached an ideal existence until it can boast of a brass band. Every citizen from the small boy up to his honor, the mayor, takes a personal interest in such an organization and is ready to root for it on state occasions. Once upon a time we had a band that dispensed soul-inspiring music during the long summer evenings, but now these rehearsals, concerts, and serenades are as myths of the past, and Falls Church has degenerated into a bandless town.—Ex.

WHEREAS, Thomas Clark and Mary A. Clark, his wife, of the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin, have made their certain mortgage to John M. Whithead, of the same place as mortgagee, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars and interest thereon, and said mortgage has assigned said mortgage by an instrument in writing, duly executed, acknowledged and delivered to Annie Bull, of the city of Beloit, county and state aforesaid, which mortgage was dated the eighth day of April, A. D., 1892, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Rock County on the eighteenth day of May, A. D., 1892, at 10:25 o'clock, a. m., in volume 69 of mortgages at page 381 and which assignment was dated the sixteenth day of August, A. D., 1895, and recorded in said office of Register of Deeds of said county on the twentieth day of August, 1895, at 9:40 o'clock, a. m., in volume 74 of mortgages at page 165; and WHEREAS, said mortgage was given to secure the payment of money by installments; and WHEREAS, default in the conditions of said mortgage relating to the payment of an installment of $44.95 due May first, A. D., 1894, and of another of $44.95, due May first, A. D., 1895, and relating to the payment of interest money, has occurred, and said assignee has exercised the option contained in said mortgage to deem the whole amount of the principal sum with all arrears of interest thereon due and payable immediately; and WHEREAS, said mortgage contains a power of sale and no action has been commenced to recover the debt now remaining secured by such mortgage, or any part thereof; and WHEREAS, the amount claimed to be due at the date of this notice, is the sum of $312.11; and

WHEREAS, a description of the mortgaged premises is as follows: Lot numbered thirty-five (35), in Riverside Addition to Janesville, according to the duly recorded plat thereof, in the city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin.

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that such mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, at public auction or vendue, on the first day of October, A. D., 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the west front corner of the Court House in said city of Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin.

office, ready for the examination of the parties interested, the specifications of any private drains or sewers so ordered to be constructed, and they shall give to the lot owners six days' notice in the official papers to construct the same, designating therein a reasonable time within which the work shall be completed; and if any lot owner neglects to do the work required of him to be done within the time specified in said notice they shall advertise for proposals and let the same by contract; and at the completion of the contract, shall give to the contractor a certificate or certificates, against such lot or lots, which shall be proceeded with and shall have the like effect as other certificates given for work chargeable to lots.

Section 227. Any person who has taken such contract from said board to construct a private drain or sewer from any lot, shall be authorized to enter upon such lot and construct thereon such drain or sewer, and shall have free ingress and egress upon the same with men for that purpose, and to deposit all the necessary building materials, and generally to do and perform all things necessary to a complete execution of the work.

Section 228. No private drain shall be connected with any public sewer, without a permit therefor first given in such manner as the common council shall have provided.

Section 229. No person is required to make connection until building, and no person shall break open or make connection with any public sewer, except by the consent and by the direction of the board of public works, or the officer or officers discharging its duties, and any person who shall do so, or who shall maliciously obstruct, damage or injure any public or private sewer or drain in said city for the purposes of sewerage, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed three months.

Section 230. Any contractor or other person acting under the direction of the board of the public works may lay sewers in and through any alleys and streets of said city and through any breakwater into any lake, and also into and highways of the county whether within the limit of the city or not, provided, that it shall be the duty of such contractor to repair such streets, alleys, breakwaters and highways, and to restore the same to the former condition upon the completion of such sewers.

Section 231. Either of the duplicate diagrams filed as the final determination for a plan of sewerage for any district after the expiration of nine months from the date of such filing shall be conclusive proof of the regularity of such proceedings to establish the change, and the plan shown on such diagram, and the regularity and legality of the proceedings to establish such plan of sewerage, shall not therefore be called in question in any court.

Section 232. When a plan of sewerage has fully determined upon, it shall not be changed, except by a vote of three-fourths of the members of the common council in favor of the same. Such change shall be by ordinance passed at a regular meeting after the same shall have been published, at least once in each week for two successive weeks in the official paper of the city.

Section 233. When such change shall have been determined upon, duplicate diagrams shall be prepared, certified and filed as before, showing the plan of sewerage as changed, and after nine months from the date of such filing the said duplicate shall be conclusive proof of the regularity and legality of the proceedings to establish such change, and the change shall be less any existing sewer, the expense of change shall be paid by the general fund.

Section 234. Whenever a contract shall have been let for the construction of any sewer, and the amount has been determined that is chargeable to the lots or parcels of land abutting on the streets or alleys through which said sewer is to be constructed, if the common council deem it for the best interest of the property owners affected by the special assessment for the construction of the said sewer, it may cause a notice to be published in the official paper of the city once in each week, for two successive weeks, substantially in the following form:

Improvement Bonds for Sewerage Assessments.

Notice is hereby given, that a contract has been let for the construction of a sewer, as follows: (Describe the street or alley) that a statement showing the amount of the special assessment chargeable to the lots and parcels of real estate benefited by said sewer, or abutting on the street (or alley), through which said sewer is to be constructed, is now on file with the city clerk. That all parties who desire to pay the same, and who are entitled to the same, are hereby required to file their notices to that effect with the said clerk, before the expiration of thirty days from the date of this notice; that the city will issue its per cent. semi-annually interest coupon bonds, payable in annual installments, for an amount sufficient to cover the special assessments, which the parties owning the property do not elect to pay on the presentation of certificates in the manner stated; that said bonds will be in charge on the particular lots only, against which said assessments are levied.

Dated the ..... day ..... 18.....
City Clerk of the city of .....

Section 235. The city council shall then have power to issue semi-annual interest coupon bonds, payable in annual installments, for an amount sufficient to cover all special assessments which the parties do not elect to pay in accordance with said notice. Said bonds shall be semi-annual interest coupon bonds, payable in annual installments, the last of which installments shall be payable at such time as the council may determine not exceeding ten years from the first day of March next ensuing, and shall draw interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. They shall specify on their face that they were sewerage bonds, and shall contain such recitals as may be necessary to show that they are chargeable only to particular property, specifying the same, and the number and amount of said bonds, and such other provisions as the common council may think proper to be inserted. Such bonds shall be signed by the mayor and clerk, and sealed with the corporate seal of the city. Such sewer improvement bonds shall in no event be a general city liability.

Section 236. Any portion or any installments of said bonds may be sold by the common council, at not less than par value, and the proceeds collected by the city treasurer shall be paid to the sewerage contractor, when due to him; or the contract may provide that the contractor shall take the bonds as payment on his contract at their par value, but he shall be charged with accrued interest.

Section 237. The city treasurer shall pay the interest on and principal of said bonds at the same time and in the same manner as the same become due, and charge the amount to the proper fund.

Section 238. In each year after the issuing of said bonds, until all of them are paid, when the tax roll of the year is prepared, sufficient of the special assessment on each parcel of land covered by said bonds, to pay the annual installment of the principal, with the interest on amount of said special assessment, then unpaid, shall be extended on the tax roll as a special tax against the property, and thereafter this tax shall be treated in all respects as any other city taxes, and when collected shall constitute a special fund for the payment of such bonds and interest, and shall be used for no other purpose. After the issue of said bonds no action shall be maintained to avoid the tax provided for in this section.

Section 239. Whenever any city shall have adopted a system of sewerage and in the opinion of the common council such system has proved inefficient or inadequate or dangerous to the public health, such common council shall have full power to alter or amend its system of sewerage, and to adopt more approved methods, and to change the system as to obviate the objections to the existing system, either by altering or modifying the same, or by abandoning it, and adopting an entirely new system. In case any city council shall so decide to amend its system of drainage or to adopt a new system, it may proceed in the mode prescribed in this act by the law, in pursuance of which such sewer or sewers were constructed, to make the necessary plans and surveys, and specifications, and to make estimates and to let contracts, and assess the expense of such work upon the lots, buildings and property thereon benefited; or in the discretion of the common council, it may cause the whole cost of such construction, alteration or change of system to be borne by the city; or it shall be lawful for the common council to cause such portion of the estimated cost of construction, alteration or amendment of sewers, as it shall designate, to be borne by the city, and the balance to be assessed upon the buildings and lots which may be benefited. It shall be lawful for any such city to issue its coupon bonds for an amount sufficient to cover the cost of construction of a new sewer, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, and becoming due at such time as the common council shall determine, as provided in this act.

The changes above contemplate adding a controller and board of public works to the officers provided by the special charter, and declaring the city to be a city of the 3rd class. Under the general charter law the board of public works is to be composed of the comptroller, city engineer and city attorney. These officers, however, may afterwards be dispensed with, and their duties may be performed by other officers of the city, or by the council, itself.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

"COMFORT" THE SUBJECT OF LAST WEEK'S TALK.

Golden Text: And God Shall Wipe Away
All Tears from Their Eyes—Revela-
ring Appeal.

TRAVELING across a western prairie, wild flowers up to the hub of the carriage wheel, and while a long distance from any shelter, there came a sudden shower, and while the rain was falling in torrents, the sun was shining as brightly as I ever saw it shine; and I thought, What a beautiful spectacle this is! So the tears of the Bible are not midnight storm, but rain on panned prairies in God's sweet and golden sunlight. You remember that bottle which David labeled as containing tears, and Mary's tears, and Paul's tears, and Christ's tears, and the harvest of joy that is to spring from the sowing of tears. God mixes them. God rounds them. God shows them where to fall. God exhales them. A census is taken of them, and there is a record as to the moment when they are born, and as to the place of their grave.

Tears of bad men are not kept. Alexander, in his sorrow, had the hair clipped from his horses and mules, and made a great ado about his grief; but in all the vases of heaven there is not one of Alexander's tears. I speak of the tears of God's children. Alas! me! they are falling all the time. In summer, you sometimes hear the growling thunder, and you see there is a storm miles away; but you know from the drift of the clouds that it will not come anywhere near you. So, though it may be all bright around you, there is a shower of trouble somewhere all the time. Tears! Tears!

What is the use of them, anyhow? Why not substitute laughter? Why not make this a world where all the people are well, and eternal strangers to pain and aches? What is the use of an eastern storm when we might have a perpetual nor'wester? Why, when a family is put together, not have them all stay, or if they must be transplanted to make other homes, then have them all live?—the family record telling a story of marriages and births, but of no deaths. Why not have the harvest chase each other without fatiguing toil? Why the hard pillow, the hard crust, the hard struggle? It is easy enough to explain a smile, or a success, or a congratulation; but, come now, and bring all your dictionaries and all your philosophies and all your religions, and help me explain a tear. A chemist will tell you that it is made up of salt and lime and other component parts; but he misses the chief ingredients—the acid of a soured life, the viperine sting of a bitter memory, the fragments of a broken heart. I will tell you what a tear is; it is agony in solution. Hear then, while I discourse of the uses of trouble.

First. It is the design of trouble to keep this world from being too attractive. Something must be done to make us willing to quit this existence. If it were not for trouble this world would be a good enough heaven for me. You and I would be willing to take a lease of this life for a hundred million years if there were no trouble. The earth cushioned and upholstered and pillared and chandeliered with such expense, no story of other worlds could enchant us.

We would say: "Let well enough alone. If you want to die and have your body disintegrated in the dust, and your soul go out on a celestial adventure, then you can go, but this world is good enough for me!" You might as well go to a man who has just entered the Louvre at Paris, and tell him to hasten off to the picture-galleries of Venice or Florence. "Why," he would say, "What is the use of my going there? There are Rembrandts and Rubens and Raphaels here that I haven't looked at yet." No man wants to go out of this world, or out of any house, until he has a better house. To cure this wish to stay here, God must somehow create a disgust for our surroundings. How shall he do it? He cannot afford to deface his horizon, or to tear off a fiery panel from the sunset, or to subtract an anther from the water-lily, or to banish the pungent aroma from the mignonette, or to drag the robes of the morning in mire. You cannot expect a Christopher Wren to mar his own St. Paul's cathedral, or a Michael Angelo to dash out his own "Last Judgment," or a Handel to discord his "Israel in Egypt," and you cannot expect God to spoil the architecture and music of his own world. How, then, are we to be made willing to leave? Here is where the trouble comes in.

After a man has had a good deal of trouble, he says: "Well, I am ready to go. If there is a house somewhere whose roof doesn't leak, I would like to live there. If there is an atmosphere somewhere that does not distress the lungs, I would like to breathe it. If there is a society somewhere where there is no little-tattle, I would like to live there. If there is a home circle somewhere where I can find my lost friends, I would like to go there." He used to read the first part of the Bible chiefly; now he reads the last part of the Bible chiefly. Why has he changed Genesis for Revelation? Ah! he used to be anxious chiefly to know how this world was made, and all about its geological construction. Now he is chiefly anxious to know how the next world was made, and how it looks, and who live there, and how they dress. He reads

Revelation ten times now where he reads Genesis once. The old story, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth," does not thrill him half as much as the other story, "I saw a new heaven and a new earth." The old man's hand trembles as he turns over this apocalyptic leaf, and he has to take out his handkerchief to wipe his spectacles. That book of Revelation is a prospectus now of the country into which he is soon to immigrate; the country in which he has lots already laid out, and avenues opened, and mansions built.

Yet there are people here to whom this world is brighter than heaven. Well, dear souls, I do not blame you. It is natural. But after awhile you will be ready to go. It was not until Job had been worn out with bereavements that he wanted to see God. It was not until the prodigal son got tired living among the hogs that he wanted to go to his father's house. It is the ministry of trouble to make this world worth less and heaven worth more.

Again, it is the use of trouble to make us feel our dependence upon God. Men think they can do anything until God shows them they can do nothing at all. We lay out great plans, and we like to execute them. It looks big. God comes and takes us down. As Prometheus was assaulted by his enemy, when the lance struck him it opened a great swelling that had threatened his death, and he got well. So it is the arrow of trouble that lets out great swelling of pride. We never feel our dependence upon God until we get trouble. I was riding with my little child along the road, and she asked me if she might drive. I said, "Certainly." I handed over the reins to her, and I had to admire the glee with which she drove. But after awhile we met a team and we had to turn out. The road was narrow, and it was sheer down on both sides. She handed the reins over to me, and said, "I think you had better take charge of the horse." So we are all children; and on this road of life we like to drive. It gives one the appearance of superiority and power. It looks big. But after awhile we meet some obstacle and we have to turn out, and the road is narrow, and it is sheer down on both sides; and then we are willing that God should take the reins and drive. Ah! my friends, we get upset so often because we do not hand over the reins soon enough.

It is trouble, my friends, that makes us feel our dependence upon God. We do not know our own weakness or God's strength until the last plank breaks. It is contemptible in us when there is nothing else to catch hold of, that we catch hold of God only. Why, you do not know who the Lord is! He is not an autocrat seated far up in a palace, from which he emerges once a year, preceded by heralds swinging swords to clear the way. No. But a Father willing, at our call, to stand by us in every crisis and predicament in life. I tell you what some of you business men make me think of. A young man goes off from home to earn his fortune. He goes with his mother's consent and benediction. She has large wealth, but he wants to make his own fortune. He goes far away, falls sick, gets out of money. He sends for the hotelkeeper where he is staying, asking for lenience, and the answer he gets is, "If you don't pay up Saturday night you'll be removed to the hospital."

The young man sends to a comrade in the same building. No help. He writes to a banker who was a friend of his deceased father. No relief. He writes to an old schoolmate, but gets no help. Saturday night comes, and he is moved to the hospital.

Getting there, he is frenzied with grief; and he borrows a sheet of paper and a postage-stamp and he sits down, and he writes home, saying: "Dear mother, I am sick unto death. Come." It is ten minutes of 10 o'clock when she gets the letter. At 10 o'clock the train starts. She is five minutes from the depot. She gets there in time to have five minutes to spare. She wonders why a train that can go thirty miles an hour cannot go sixty miles an hour. She rushes into the hospital. She says: "My son, what does all this mean? Why didn't you send for me? You sent to everybody but me. You knew I could and would help you. Is this the reward I get for my kindness to you always?" She bundles him up, takes him home, and gets him well very soon. Now, some of you treat God just as that young man treated his mother. When you get into a financial perplexity, you call on the banker, you call on the broker, you call on your creditors, you call on your lawyers for legal counsel; you call upon everybody, and when you cannot get any help, then you go to God. You say: "O Lord, I come to thee. Help me now out of my perplexity." And the Lord comes, though it is in the eleventh hour. He says: "Why did you not send for me before? As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." It is to throw us back upon God that we have this ministry of tears.

Again, it is the use of trouble to capacitate us for the office of sympathy. The priests, under the old dispensation, were set apart by having water sprinkled upon their hands, feet, and head; and by the sprinkling of tears people are now set apart to the office of sympathy. When we are in prosperity we like to have a great many young people around us, and we laugh when they laugh, and we romp when they romp, and we sing when they sing; but when we have trouble we like plenty of old folks around. Why? They know how to talk. Take an aged mother, seventy years of age, and she is almost omnipotent in comfort. Why? She has been through it all. At 7 o'clock in the morning she goes over to comfort a young mother who has just lost her babe. Grandmother knows all about that trouble. Fifty years ago she felt it. At twelve o'clock of that day she goes over to comfort a widowed soul. She knows all about that. She has been walking in that dark valley twenty years. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon some one knocks at the door, wanting bread. She knows all about that. Two or three times in her life she came to her last loaf. At 10 o'clock that night she goes over to sit up with some one severely sick. She knows all about it. She knows all about fevers and pleurisies and broken bones. She has been doctoring all her life, spreading plasters and pouring out bitter drops and shaking up hot pillows and contriving things to tempt a poor appetite. Doctors Abernethy and Rush and Hosack and Harvey were great doctors, but the greatest doctor the world ever saw is an old Christian woman! Dear me! Do we not remember her about the room when we were sick in our boyhood? Was there any one who could ever so touch a sore without hurting it?

Where did Paul get the ink with which to write his comforting epistle? Where did David get the ink to write his comforting psalms? Where did John get the ink to write his comforting Revelation? They got it out of their own tears. When a man has gone through the curriculum, and has taken a course of dungeons and imprisonments and shipwrecks, he is qualified for the work of sympathy.

When I began to preach, my sermons on the subject of trouble were all poetic and in semi-blank verse; but God knocked the blank verse out of me long ago, and I have found that I cannot comfort people except as I myself have been troubled. God make me the son of consolation to the people. I would rather be the means of soothing one perturbed spirit today, than to play a tune that would set all the sons of mirth reeling in the dance.

I am a herb doctor. I put into the caldron the Root out of dry ground, without form or comeliness. Then I put in the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley. Then I put into the caldron some of the leaves from the Tree of Life, and the Branch that was thrown into the wilderness Marah. Then I pour in the tears of Bethany and Golgotha; then I stir them up. Then I kindle under the caldron a fire made out of the wood of the cross, and one drop of that potion will cure the worst sickness that ever afflicted a human soul. Mary and Martha shall receive their Lazarus from the tomb. The damsel shall rise. And on the darkness shall break the morning, and God will wipe all tears from their eyes.

Have you any appreciation of the good and glorious times your friends are having in heaven? How different it is when they get news there of a Christian's death from what it is here! It is the difference between embarkation and coming into port. Everything depends upon which side of the river you stand when you hear of a Christian's death. If you stand on this side of the river, you mourn that they go. If you stand on the other side of the river, you rejoice that they come. Oh, the difference between a funeral on earth and a jubilee in heaven—between requiem here and triumph there—parting here and reunion there! Together! Have you thought of it? They are together. Not one of your departed friends in one land and another in another land; but together, in different rooms of the same house—the house of many mansions. Together!

I never more appreciated that thought than when we laid away in her last slumber my sister Sarah. Standing there in the village cemetery, I looked around and said: "There is father, there is mother, there is grandfather, there is grandmother, there are whole circles of kindred;" and I thought to myself, "Together in the grave—together in glory." I am so impressed with the thought that I do not think it is any fanaticism when some one is going from this world to the next if you make them the bearer of dispatches to your friends who are gone, saying: "Give my love to my parents, give my love to my children, give my love to my old comrades who are in glory, and tell them I am trying to fight the good fight of faith, and I will join them after awhile." I believe the message will be delivered; and I believe it will increase the gladness of those who are before the throne. Together are they, all their tears gone.

My friends take this good cheer home with you. These tears of bereavement that course your cheek, and of persecution, and of trial, are not always to be there. The motherly hand of God will wipe them all away. What is the use, on the way to such a consummation—what is the use of fretting about anything? Oh, what an exhilaration it ought to be in Christian work! See you the pinnacles against the sky? It is the city of our God, and we are approaching it. Oh, let us be busy in the days that remain for us!

I put this balsam on the wounds of your heart. Rejoice at the thought of what your departed friends have got rid of, and that you have a prospect of so soon making your own escape. Bear cheerfully the ministry of tears, and exult at the thought that soon it is to be ended.

There we shall march up the heavenly street, And ground our arms at Jesus' feet.

WINANS AGAINST ANY THIRD TERM

HAS SPECIAL OBJECTIONS TO MR. CLEVELAND.

Complains That a Republican Postmaster Has Been Allowed to Stay in Office in Monroe—A Single Term of Six Years Preferable to the Present System.

Ex-Congressman John Winans has been interviewed by a Sentinel correspondent on the third term question and says:

"I am thoroughly opposed to third terms in general, and in Mr. Cleveland's case in particular. I am opposed to a third term for the reason that no precedent has been established, and furthermore, I think that after a man has been twice favored with the highest office in the gift of the people, he has no right to ask for it again. I am in favor of extending the term to six years instead of four, and then make the president ineligible for a second term.

Too Much Civil Service.

"I have no objections to saying that I do not like Mr. Cleveland as a president, neither do I like his last administration. He is not my kind of a democrat. The postoffice at Monroe has a republican postmaster, whose term will not expire until next February, and he is allowed to remain all through Cleveland's administration. I am a firm believer in the principle that to the victor belongs the spoils. There is too much of the civil service reform about Cleveland to suit me.

"I am in favor of some western man for a candidate, although it is yet a little early to settle upon any one in particular."

MILITIA BOYS GLAD TO REST.

General King Made Them Work Like Trojans All Last Week.

Light Infantry boys got home Saturday night quite willing to rest. Private J. H. Cullen was sick, and had to be taken from the train in the fire patrol, while Private Hilton was enough under the weather so that his friends carried him home in a buggy.

"We never had so hard a week" said one of the men as he doffed his regimentals and breathed a sigh of relief. "It was straight soldiering all the time—not a vacation in camp, as it has been some years. Every morning there were two battalion drills, in the afternoon a long skirmish drill, and later a dress parade. Then there was guard duty, police work, range practice and enough other things in the way of sham battles and special turnouts to keep us very busy. No wonder some of the boys are used up. It was good practice, though, and the first regiment was never in such good shape as it is today."

MARQUETTE DELEGATION IN TOWN

Three Aldermen See the City's New Roller and Are Much Pleased.

Three Marquette aldermen came here today to inspect the steam roller. They were F. Pendell, C. F. Schoch and C. D. Blanchard. Tomorrow they meet Mayor J. H. Jacobs of Marquette and will examine the Kelly roller in Chicago and the Harrisburg roller in Rockford. They liked the Janesville machine very much and thought it would work admirably in Marquette where there is an abundance of stone as hard as flint.

SARGENT POST TO GO IN A BODY

Evansville Reunion Next Wednesday May Result in a County Organization.

The reunion at Evansville, on Wednesday, promises lots of fun to the old soldier boys. Quite a crowd are going from here. The W. H. Sargent Post G. R. are going in a body with flags and drums. A county organization will be formed and the Post boys will extend an invitation to this organization to meet at Janesville next year.

Warmer Tonight and Tuesday.

Forecast. Warmer tonight and Tuesday.

The Royal Blues and the Famed Ludlow for Sale Only at the Beehive.

We received a few days ago a large stock of the Royal Blues made by Sellz, Schwab & Co. $4.00 shoes. The same shoe is sold by Streeter Bros. Chicago and is the best (all points considered) for the money on the market. We have them any style of black with the very latest toes, this year's stock. We also carry a large line of Ludlows ladies shoes, our fall stock of them on the shelves and we can show you the prettiest footwear for moderate money you ever saw. Both makes of these shoes are warranted by the manufacturers and are sold only at the Beehive, 53 W. Milwaukee street.

Twelve Bushels Went Saturday

Lowell's souvenir match safes took well Saturday. They gave away twelve bushel baskets full. This concern never does things by halves or advertises any fake. Watch their talk for surprises.

It takes both steamers and both parks to accommodate the grocery men at their picnic. The best time of the season is anticipated.

BECKWITH HORSES DOING WELL

Manager Carnathan Left This Morning To Take Charge of the String.

Senator Beckwith's string of six horses, which are entered in Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Green Bay and Rochester, Minn., are all in fine trim after their work on the Janesville track. Trainer Robert Carnathan left this morning for Milwaukee to take charge of the horses, and says that so far no definite plans have been made to winter the horses in this city.

STONE CRUSHER MAN IS HERE.

Wants to Sell the City a Machine—Connell Meeting Tonight.

An agent of the Austin Stone Crusher Co. is in town trying to sell the city a machine on long time.

The tax levy will be the principal matter before the council tonight, although the grading of a part of Fourth avenue may be ordered.

PRIZES FOR TOMORROW'S RACES

A Tug of War Between the East and West Sides—Sack Races.

One of the features of the grocery men's picnic tomorrow will be a tug of war between the east and west sides of the river, best two out of three pulls. The first prize will be $5 donated by Captain Richard Griffith; second prize, $2.50, donated by the committee.

There will also be a sack race with three prizes, donated by the committee. First prize, $1; second prize, 50 cents; third prize, 25 cents.

Other games will also be provided for the boys. The picnic will be at both Mayflower park and Crystal Springs. Both boats will run at 1:30, 2:30, 4:30 and 7:15. Fare 15 cents for round trip. Dance in the evening. The public is invited. All the grocery and dry goods stores will close at noon.

IN RESPONSE TO THE FINAL CALL.

Funeral of Miss Anna Tall.

A large number of friends paid the final of tribute respect to Miss Anna Tall and the funeral which was held from the family home on Cornelia street was very largely attended. The floral offerings were especially handsome and told the story of friendship with silent eloquence. Rev. Dr. Halsey of Court Street M. E. church, conducted the services, which were held at 2 o'clock, after which the remains were laid to rest at Oak Hill, the pall bearers being, J. F. Hutchinson, Millard F. Ide, Fred H. Koebelin, William Eller, E. H. Murdock and Harry Reynolds.

Funeral of Edwin Beyer.

The funeral of little Edwin Beyer was held at the home of his parents, on Prospect avenue at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. C. Koerner, of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating, after which the interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery.

Slater.

A telegraph message from Neenah today announced the death of the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Slater. Mrs. Slater was Miss Alice Knight of this city and was employed in Archie Reid's. Many friends will sympathize with the young couple in their bereavement.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL.

It's a dull season so people say. Money is scarce, and we for one, cannot afford to hold our stock from one end of the season to the other without moving it. We are selling many buggies but the profits are knocked endways. If you are in the market for a buggy, don't pass us by. We'll sell to you sure as fate. F. A. Taylor.

CRAB is the name very appropriately given to shoes that lack fit and style. You don't want them. When you buy a shoe you may as well have what is neat, new and comfortable. You can't miss it with us. We have the styles, the variety and price that will suit you. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

THE Henney is the cheapest all-around buggy in the long run, of any on the market; almost impossible to wear out, easy springs, latest patterns in construction, and the best finished of any of the hundreds of vehicles manufactured in the country. Don't fail to see a Henney. F. A. Taylor.

Do you want a buggy, a survey, a carriage, a road wagon, a spring wagon, a delivery wagon, in fact, any kind of a vehicle. We have a large stock and can sell you cheaper than any one in like business. Don't miss consulting us. F. A. Taylor.

SALE on vinegar bottles at eight cents and glass metal top syrup pitchers at nine cents at Wheelock's.

Just take a look at the bargains we have at $1.50. Others can't touch us. Lloyd & Son.

Lots of ladies' oxfords for $1 a pair. Lloyd & Son.

REMEMBER, fifteen cents gives you a nice ride up the river Tuesday, August 20, and no charge for dancing. You have the privileges of both parks and both boats. All join the grocery and dry goods picnic, and have a nice time.

JURY DIDN'T AGREE AS TO ELLEN'S GUILT

FIVE WERE FOR CONVICTION AND ONE FOR ACQUITTAL.

Case Was Tried at Orfordville Saturday Afternoon—Defense Was That the Consumers Owned the Liquor and Ellen Simply Gave Them Storage—Brutal Street Fight.

The Orfordville ratio is 5 to 1. This has no bearing on the silver question, but relates to the great problem of that village, to-wit:

"Are you for oragin' Ellen Shafer?" Five men on the jury that heard the evidence against her Saturday afternoon agreed with District Attorney Jackson that liquor had been sold, while one partook of Attorney William Smith's belief that it had not.

Ellen's defense was that the beverage dispensed was the property of those who absorbed it, and that she merely afforded the storage room for the cases at the Travelers' Rest.

The case will be tried again on Friday at 10 a. m.

When William O'Neill struck John Flynn in the eye yesterday, knocked him down, and then stamped him in the face, he acted unwisely, for unless he now pays $25 in costs, amounting to $32.25, he will stay in jail for thirty days. The row occurred near R. B. Harper's meat market and Jacob Ohlweiler, who saw it, said that O'Neill knocked Flynn down and then applied his heel to Flynn's eye, after which he walked away while bystanders helped Flynn to his feet. O'Neill admitted the charge but said that Flynn attacked him. Flynn remembered very little about what happened as he was admittedly intoxicated at the time.

The case of the state against Emil Shumaker, who is charged with diverting the water in the lower race way from one mill to another was adjourned until September 16.

Mexico produces anything that may be raised in any other country. So varied is the climate that in the same state may be raised any product of the tropics and of the polar regions. Cotton, wheat, rye, silver, silk, coconuts, bananas, rice, cocoa, vanilla, logwood, mahogany, hides and wines are the principal products. The center of population in 1790, was about twenty-three miles east of Baltimore; in 1800, about eighteen miles west of Baltimore; in 1810, about forty miles northwest of Washington; in 1820, about sixteen miles north of Woodstock, Va.; in 1830, about nineteen miles southwest of Moorfield, W. The University Press at Oxford has appliances for printing in one hundred and fifty different languages. Dr. Lekner, of Zurich, by chemical and mechanical means, practically supercedes the silkworm, and spins from such raw material as cotton waste, jute waste, or wood pulp, a thread that even the expert eye can hardly distinguish from that of the natural cocoon. Scientists believe that all salt, wherever found, has come originally from the sea, in some way or other. The lake of Urumia, in Persia, contains more salt than any other body of water in the world. On analysis the water has been found to contain even more salt than the Dead Sea, which holds twenty-six per cent. or eight times as much as the ocean. Taking the world over, there is an average of one death and one and a quarter births per second. Only one-half of all who are born into the world live to the age of seventeen years. Only one marble statue of the human figure with eyelashes is known. It is the sleeping Ariadne, one of the gems of the Vatican, and was found in 1503. ## Down in Kentucky.

"I swan!" exclaimed Judge Sugarwith.

"Seems to me that's a mighty childish sort of an oath," commented the major in a tone of disgust.

"The reason the judge swears by the swan," explained Col. Ochiltylet, with courteous interruption, "is because he admires anything that has such a delightful neck and can get along on an inch and a half of water."—N. Y. Recorder.

God Is Doing His Best.

Is not God doing the best He can for us? Can any Christian disciple have a doubt on this point? And if God is doing His best for us why should we complain of any ordering of His? Sickness and bereavement, disappointment and sorrow, as well as health and happiness and joy, are all ordered or permitted by Him in wisdom and love. He knows what is best for us, and He sees that we have it. In view of this, why are thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me?

A PREHISTORIC TUNNEL.

Apparently Implements of Stone Were Employed in Its Construction.

A few weeks ago a number of well-known residents of Butte left here on a prospecting expedition to the Big Hole country, says the Inter Mountain. Among the number were W. D. Clark and Thomas J. Howard. They are men of unimpeachable veracity, who number their friends by the hundreds in this city. This latter statement is perhaps made necessary by what is to follow. The gentlemen returned to Butte last evening, and to-day filed for record a location notice of the Catalpa lode claim, which the notice says is located three miles south of Divide station on Leecher mountain, a portion of country that has not been prospected very thoroughly on account of the large amount of snow in that locality during the summer months. The remarkable part of the locating of this claim is the statement of the locators that they discovered a tunnel fully fifty feet long, which had been driven into the mountain apparently several years ago. In prospecting along the side of the mountain the men found several pieces of good-looking copper ore in a hollow which they first supposed had been a buffalo wallow in the days when those animals roamed the prairies of the Big Hole country. The prospectors, believing that there was a lead somewhere in the vicinity, began to dig in the mountain side. After an hour's hard labor they were considerably surprised to find the earth suddenly yielding to the blows of the pick and a big hole came up before them. They cleared away the earth and entered a tunnel about six feet high and four feet wide, filled with blocks of stone. The roof of the tunnel was protected by large flat stones, and for about twenty feet there was not a break in the primitive timbering. About twenty feet from the mouth of this tunnel the prospectors came to a spot where the earth had apparently broken down the stonework, and after clearing away the debris the men were enabled to go about twenty-five or thirty feet further. Here they came to a ledge, which was carefully examined, but as to what was discovered there the men will say nothing, except that they found some elements made of stone which had apparently been used in driving the tunnel.

REWARDED BY ROTHSCHILD.

That Giveth to the Poor Lendeth to the Lord." On one occasion with Baron de Rothschild, Eugene Delacroix, the famous French painter, kept his eyes turned upon his host in a so-called manner that, when the company rose to leave the dining-room, Baron James could not help asking him what it was that so attracted his attention. The painter confessed that some time past he had vainly sought to serve as a model for that of Delacroix he intended to hold a prominent position in a painting on which he was then engaged, and that, as he had at his host's features, the idea suddenly struck him that the very head desired was before him. With this delusion he ventured to ask the painter whether he would do him the honor to sit for him as the beggar, Delacroix, being a great admirer of art, all its forms, and pleased to be considered one of its chief patrons, readily consented to assume a character never undertaken by a millionaire. The next day found him at the painter's studio. Delacroix placed a tunic round shoulders, put a stout staff in his hand, and made him pose as if he were leaning on the steps of an ancient man family. In this attitude he was covered by one of the artist's favorite pupils, who alone had free access to the studio at all times. Naturally concluding that the model had only been brought in from some church, and never dreaming of the character assumed by him was far from the one, he seized an opportunity when the master's eyes were turned to slip a bag of money into the beggar's hand. On Rothschild thanked him with a smile, and kept the money. The pupil inquired the studio. In answer to the inquiries made, Delacroix told him that this young man possessed talent, but no means; that he had, in order to earn his livelihood by giving lessons in painting and drawing. Shortly after, the young fellow received a letter stating that charity bears interest, and that the accumulated interest on the amount that he had so generously given to one whom he supposed was a beggar was represented by the sum of 10,000 francs, which was lying at disposal at the Rothschild offices.

BACTERIA IN CLOTHES.

Seitz Found 956 Thriving Colonies in a Stocking. Dr. Seitz, of Munich, gives us the philosophy of their bacteriology. On examining a worsted stocking he found 956 thriving colonies, while on a cotton sock there were 712. Both these articles had been worn, but no information is afforded as to the personal habits of the wearer. Thirty-three colonies were found on a glove, 20 on a piece of linen stuff and nine on a piece of cloth; none of these articles had been worn. On a piece of cloth from a garment that had been worn a week there were 23 colonies. Of the micro-organisms found on articles of clothing a few were capable of causing disease. The pathogenic species were without exception staphylococci. In the case, however, Dr. Seitz found typhoid bacillus in articles of clothing from 21 to 27 days, and the staphylococcus pyogenes abusus 19 days after having been worn. The anthrax bacillus found in clothes was still virulent after a year. The microbe of erysipelas, on the other hand, could not survive after 18 hours, nor the cholera after three days. Dr. Seitz studied with special care the question of the survival of the bacillus when worn in tuberculous subjects who had profusely the bacillus was contained by the perspiration to a piece of cloth worn for some time next to the skin of the chest. The inoculation of guinea-pigs, however, gave negative results.
